Measures taken to achieve full equality

Support to National Councils of National Minorities

The funds for the financing the activities of the national councils, entered in the Register of the national councils, are provided from the budget of the Republic of Serbia, the budget of the autonomous province and the budget of local self-government units, donations and other income. The amount of funds from public sources provided for financing the activities of national councils shall be determined for each year by the Law on Budget of the Republic of Serbia and decisions on the budget of the Autonomous Province of Vojvodina and local self-government units.

Financing the activities of the national councils of national minorities from the budget of local self-government units.

According to the Law on National Councils of National Minorities, the national councils representing a national minority that reaches at least 10% of the total population of a local self-government or whose language is in official use in the local self-government, shall be provided with the funds from the budget of local self-government units. On the basis of this law, 54 local self-government units are obliged to finance 12 national councils from their budgets, including: Albanian, Bosnian, Bulgarian, Vlach, Hungarian, Macedonian, Romany, Romanian, Ruthenian, Slovak, Croatian and Czech national minority. Office for Human and Minority Rights conducted a survey, in early 2014, among local self-government units and compiled the Communication on the implementation of legal obligations of financing the national councils of national minorities in local self-government units in 2014 year. In the 2014 budgets, allocations for the activities of National Councils was done by 25 local self-government units, while 29 did not envisage funds for these purposes. Three local self-government units planned funds for financing the national councils although it was not their legal obligation, including: Backa Topola - for the national councils of the Rusyn and Slovak national minorities, Kula - for the national councils of the German and Ukrainian minorities and Novi Bečej - for the National Council of the Roma national minority.

Most of the funds for churches and religious communities is awarded through competition for grants to churches and religious communities which operate on the territory of the Autonomous Province of Vojvodina, announced at least once a year. One percentage of the funds which are not spent by the competition, is used for financing extraordinary and unforeseen demands of churches and religious communities.

The Ministry of Interior has continued with the implementation of Police activities with marginalized, minority and socially vulnerable groups, which primarily focus on the training of police officers on the rights of members of the groups and undertaking activities that will contribute that police activities are adjusted to security needs of these groups. In the area of police administration in Sombor, concrete cooperation with minority, marginalized and socially vulnerable groups was reflected in communication with the Association of citizens "Eureka", formed by a Roma women's non-governmental organization that deals with the socialization of marginalized social groups. In the area of police administration in Novi Pazar, a one-day seminar attended by 33 police officers on Constitutional protection of human and minority rights was held in 2012. Special attention was devoted to cooperation with the members of Roma national minority.

In 2011, within a joint project of the Ministry of Interior and the Republic of Hungary, in Novi Sad and Subotica, a six-month course in the Hungarian language was completed, as part of the learning of languages of national minorities in the Autonomous Province of Vojvodina. The course in the Hungarian language was attended by 40 police officers from police departments in Novi Sad and Subotica and the Regional Centre of Border Police at Hungarian border.

Police officers of the Police Administration for the City of Belgrade established cooperation and contact with the leaders and members of the Roma and their associations "Democratic Association of Roma", "Roma Children's Center" and others. In the area of police administration in Prokuplje a round table was held, organized by the Association of Roma on the topic of "Youth, for and against" In the area of police administration in Leskovac, in the premises of the Hall of the City Council, a meeting was held between members of the police and the representatives of Roma national minority on the topic of current security problems in the areas where the Roma live. At this meeting, it was stated that the cooperation between the police and Roma population is at a satisfactory level and it was proposed that the Security Council of the City of Leskovac engages the representatives of the Roma national minority. With the support of the OSCE Mission, the Ministry of Interior implemented, in 2012 and 2013, several local smaller projects aimed at preventing discrimination against minority communities.

The involvement of the Basic Police Training Center in Sremska Kamenica on the integration of the members of national minorities in the police and the Ministry of Interior, takes place, both on their own initiative and the initiative organized by or with the support of the Ministry of Interior, the Office for Human and Minority Rights, other government bodies, educational institutions, non-governmental and international organizations, representatives of local authorities - and can be grouped into several areas:

- Promoting the profession of police officer, the Ministry of Interior and the Basic Police Training Center, information on training, the activities of the Centre, the requirements for admission and announced competitions through different media:
 - Multilingual information campaign since the very founding of COPO, 2007, to mark the first competition for enrollment of students for training (brochures, posters, competition ads). Information material printed in nine languages, the most common of national minorities (Albanian, Bulgarian, Hungarian, Romani, Romanian, Ruthenian, Slovak, Ukrainian and Croatian).
 - Through the electronic media - website of COPO: www.copo.edu.rs and the page on the Facebook social network.
 - Audio and video promotional material: For the campaign of the 2008 competition, a radio ad in the languages of national minorities and a promotional film were recorded. Within the project "Support for greater inclusion of national minorities in the police service" which began in 2012 and was completed in 2013, a 30-minute documentary informational and promotional film "School of Open Doors" was recorded on the inclusion of minorities in the police service (with the english/albanian subtitles) - shown in 2013 at the RTS 2 in the series "The Citizen" dedicated to the life of national minorities in Serbia as well as a promotional 8-minute film about the Basic Police Training Center, for general purposes.
- The possibility of taking a part of the entrance examination for admission to basic police training - psychological test and a test of general knowledge in the languages of national minorities - These two tests have been translated into 8 languages of national minorities (Albanian, Hungarian, Romani, Romanian, Ruthenian, Slovak, Ukrainian and Croatian). With a wish to mitigate the aggravating factors and provide all candidates in the selection with the maximum of equal guaranteed conditions, the candidates from national minorities were enabled to take psychological test and test of general knowledge in their mother tongue. These two tests have been translated into eight languages of most prevalent minority ethnic communities (Albanian, Hungarian, Slovak, Romani, Romanian, Ruthenian, Ukrainian and Croatian). Testing of candidates on computers and complete automated processing of data allows a more objective, faster and better selection of candidates for basic police training.
- Promotional stands of the Basic Police Training Center in the areas where there in a large number of members of ethnic minority communities:
 - In February 2013, debates were held in Bujanovac, Vranje, Surdulica and Vladicin Han. In June 2013, debates were held in Sremska Mitrovica, Sombor, Subotica, Kikinda, Pancevo, Zrenjanin and Bor. In addition to the OSCE Mission, support in the implementation of the debates was also provided by the above police departments.
 - In March 201, the representatives of the Basic Police Training Center in cooperation with the OSCE Mission and the Bureau of International Cooperation and European Integration of the Ministry of Interior, as well as the authorized representative of the Roma, held promotional debates for the entry of potential candidates of Roma into the Basic Police Training Center. Debates were implemented in the presence of local media in Subotica (25 candidates), in Bujanovac (25 candidates), in Presevo (32 candidates), in Sremska Mitrovica (50 candidates), in the Police Department for the City of Belgrade (150 candidates), in Uzice (120 candidates), in Valjevo (93 candidates), Bor (43 candidates), in Kladovo (52 candidates), in Pozarevac (211 candidates) in Kikinda (around 150 candidates). The realization of the debates have also been supported by the above police administrations.

The aim and assignments of these activities are introducing the potential applicants to the characteristics and requirements of the profession, providing information about the Basic Police Training Center, duration and characteristics of the training, introducing people to the competition conditions and detailed information on the selection procedure (duration, selection phases, possibilities for preparation for the entrance exam). Encouraging Roma, Albanians, Romanians, Hungarians and women to apply for admission to the Basic Police Training Center is particularly emphasized.

- Promotional and preparatory workshops for the Basic Police Training Center which aim at better preparation of potential candidates for the entrance examination (psychological test, a test of general knowledge and Serbian language) - Evaluation of selection of first and second-class students of BPTC, showed that candidates from the majority of the environments with a larger number of minority ethnic communities, achieve relatively low pass rate in the admission exam compared to the average achievement and that such proportionally lower achievements cannot be attributed to less developed relevant basic skills, but to the lack of experience in test situations, as well as the fact that the candidates - members of ethnic minority communities, are mostly educated in their own language and that, unfortunately, have insufficient knowledge of the Serbian language. Basic Police Training Center has, in the past few years established a program for better information of members of national minorities interested in enrolling in the Basic Police Training Center in order to ensure higher pass rate during the selection of candidates.
 - The workshops in November and December 2012 were realized in Presevo and Bujanovac - with the support of the OSCE Mission in Serbia.
 - The workshops in March 2015 were realized within the project Inclusion of Roma men and women in the security sector of the Republic of Serbia the holder of which is the Police Association "European Roma Police Officers" with its headquarters in Belgrade. The funds for the project were provided through the Government of the Republic of Serbia - Office for Human and Minority Rights in the amount of 600,000 dinars. Six one-day promotional workshops were implemented in the Basic Police Training Center (11. 3. 2015), Belgrade (18. 3. 2015), Bor (23. 3. 2015), Kraljevo (24. 3. 2015), Pirot (25. 3. 2015. 2014) and in Nis (26. 3. 2015) Two press conferences aimed at informing the public and affirmation of the Project were held - one at the beginning of the Project realization in Belgrade and one at the end of its realization in Nis.
- Participation at education fairs:
 - The Basic Police Training Center has continued the tradition of SSUP, and has been participating in the Fair of Education "Guidelines" in Novi Sad for years, which was held in late February and early March in recent years.
 - The stock market of secondary schools (in the areas with a large number of members of national minorities): The Basic Police Training Center introduced in March and April 2013 to the students of primary and secondary schools in the Autonomous Province of Vojvodina (Rumenka, Kikinda and Subotica) and in 2014 in Kanjiza, with the significant presence of minority ethnic communities.

These events were organized within the project "Vocational guidance in Serbia - the stock market of secondary schools".

- Open day:
 - The Basic Police Training Center is visited by potential candidates who wish to get acquainted with the requirements for applying, selection of candidates, qualification exam as well as training and living and work conditions in the Basic Police Training Center. Special emphasis is placed on the visits of members of national minorities in the Autonomous Province of Vojvodina (2009, 2012 and 2014), the Roma community (2009 and 2011) and the Albanian minority members in Presevo, Bujanovac and Medvedja (2011. and 2012).
- Serbian language classes for students of the Basic Police Training Center from the ranks of national minorities to enable them to follow the training at the Center more easily: Since it has been reported that some of the participants of the Albanian and Hungarian nationality due to insufficient knowledge of the Serbian language had difficulties to follow the training, Serbian language classes have been organized for them.

Ministry of Culture and Information announced as well a tender for the translation of works of local authors into foreign languages. A large number of foreign publishers interested in the translation of works by local authors apply for the tender, including the publishers of the country of the core ethnic minorities living on the territory of the Republic of Serbia. In this way, members of national minorities are allowed to have access to these works in their own language. Also, the Provincial Secretariat for Culture and Public Information announces a tender for co-publishing, which includes, among other things, translating important works from the Serbian and foreign language into minority languages.

The National Councils take into consideration the applications to the announced annual tender and in accordance with their own determined cultural policy, they propose to the Provincial Secretariat for Culture and Public Information, the programs and projects to be co-financed in the current year, in accordance with the budgetary possibilities. At the same time, funds from the provincial budget, in the total amount over RSD 72,000,000.00 are used for co-financing the maintenance of total 766 programs of cultural and art events in the field of literature, art, theatre, music and musical-theatrical creations of 19 national minorities in Vojvodina. The largest share by the programs held in this period the is of the Hungarian national minority (326 programs), followed by Croatian national minority (86 programs), Romanian (80 programs) and Slovak national minority (77 programs).

Supporting information in the languages of national minorities

Competent authorities at all levels of government provide support to the realization of rights of national minorities to information in their own language and enrichment of the media in minority languages. The Ministry of Culture and Information has, in the financial reporting period, supported these activities by calling the tender for co-financing of projects / programs in the field of public information in the languages of national minorities, by subsidies and through allocation of funds to individual projects. Provincial Secretariat for Culture and Public Information, on the basis of regulations and tender, allocated among other things, the funds for financing of newspapers of provincial interest, for co-financing projects of encouraging public information for the technical and technological advancement in the media and for improving the professional standards of public information. In the process of making decisions on the allocation of budget funds that support media and information in the languages of national minorities, active participants are the national councils of national minorities who give their opinions on the applicants' projects. Radio and TV stations whose founders are local governments are financed in its entirety or partially from their budgets.

In 2010, on the basis of a special tender called for financing of print media in the languages of national minorities in central Serbia 3 newspapers were co-financed with a total of RSD 17,806,549.00. In 2011, because of the need of rationalizing the national budget, the funds intended for these newspapers and co-funding of programs/projects in minority languages on the territory of the Republic were consolidated. The funds in total amount of RSD 15,642,650.00 have been allocated for four newspapers.

Measures to facilitate access to the media to increase tolerance and cultural pluralism

In order to encourage the production of media content that promotes respect for differences due to specific ethnic, cultural, linguistic or religious identity, the tender for financing projects / programs in the field of public information in the languages of national minorities includes, among others, the following criteria: contribution to the diversity of media content and pluralism of ideas and values, as well as the programs of multi and intercultural content with the aim of developing a culture of dialogue, better understanding and understanding among different communities. The tendency of an increasing number of media and productions that compete with multilingual and intercultural events was noted in the reporting period.

Besides through the tenders, the Ministry also supports individual projects estimated to improve quality of the public information system in the Republic of Serbia significantly.

Office for Human and Minority Rights announced, on the basis of the Law on Budget of the Republic of Serbia for 2013, Decree on the Means of encouraging programs or missing part of funds for financing programs of public interest realized by the associations (2012) and the Program for the use of funds for projects and programs of associations to promote and protect human rights in the Republic of Serbia for 2013, a tender for allocation of funds in the total of RSD 14,279,887.00 for the associations for project proposals for the realization of the following objectives: 1. Prevention and assistance in the implementation of policies in the field of asylum and readmission, with a special focus on the Roma population; 2. More efficient implementation of existing strategic documents concerning the position and status of Roma, through the creation of relevant reports and surveys 3. Improvement of quality of life of the Roma population through the creation and promotion of integrated local services/programs (inter-sectoral and inter-municipal) 4. Preventing and Combating Human Trafficking through innovative local programs and by raising awareness of the existing forms of human trafficking, with the focus on the Roma population. 5. Encouraging the positive action of the general society towards representatives of the Roma population, as a socially vulnerable population in the field of migration - national, regional and the European Union. 15 civil society organizations were supported through the tender.

Within the program "Fight against discrimination and improvement of the position of vulnerable categories of the population" Office for Human and Minority Rights, on the basis of a public tender in 2013, allocated funds from the budget of the Republic of Serbia for 22 civil society organizations with the aim of improving the position of vulnerable categories of the population in the amount of RSD 20.963.381. The projects included all vulnerable social groups, the most significant projects being the objective media reporting, Festival "Free Zone" on improving the position of LGBT people, support for asylum seekers and returnees under the Agreement on readmission, etc.

The contest "Promotion of tolerance and equality aimed at improving the position of vulnerable groups", in 2014, the funding from the budget of the Republic of Serbia in the amount of RSD 16,693,772.50 was awarded to 22 civil society organizations for the implementation of activities to promote the following objectives: encouraging positive action of the society towards certain vulnerable social groups and towards individuals from these groups, such as co-members of ethnic minorities, women, LGBT people, people with disabilities, the elderly, children, refugees, internally displaced persons and other vulnerable migrant groups, persons whose health may be the grounds for discrimination, and towards multi discriminated persons; combating discrimination and raising public awareness about the importance of tolerance, equality and respect for diversity; promotion and enhancement of respect for the principles of equality and equal rights in order to prevent, or minimize all forms and special cases of discrimination of persons belonging to vulnerable categories of the population, who are often faced with multi discrimination persons, through the implementation of a series of activities to contribute the improvement the position of certain groups/minorities, promotion of the values and principles of inalienability of fundamental human and minority rights, in accordance with the program

The contest "Implementation of anti-discrimination policies in the Republic of Serbia in order to implement the Strategy of prevention and protection from discrimination" in 2015 supported 34 civil society organizations with the funds from the budget of the Republic of Serbia in the amount of RSD 18,927,000.00. The basis for defining the prioritization of the contest were the measures and activities envisaged by the Strategy of prevention and protection from discrimination ("Official Gazette of RS", No. 60/2013), Action Plan for the implementation of the Strategy of prevention ("Official Gazette of RS", No. 107/2014).

In the contest for associations' projects for the improvement of the position and status of Roma in Serbia, 15 associations were supported by the funds of RSD 14,226,837.00, which implemented the activities from December 2013 - March 2014, where three projects were aimed at inetsectoral connection in order to improve the position of Roma men and women in the local community, 5 projects to deal with the problem of readmission, 3 projects - human trafficking, 2 projects - encouraging positive actions of the community; 2 projects - improvement of healthcare protection in the informal settlements.

The contest for associations' projects for the improvement of the position and status of Roma in the Republic of Serbia, 24 associations were supported by the funds of 19.961.108,00, whose activities were implemented from November 2014 to March 2015. The following areas were covered: employment, healthcare protection, safety, education, readmission, forced marriage, domestic violence and violence against women, information campaigns on raising public awareness and encouraging positive action towards the citizens of Roma ethnicity.

The contest for associations' projects for the improvement of the position and status of Roma in the Republic of Serbia, 34 associations were supported by the funds of the budget of the Republic of Serbia in the amount of 17,000,000.00, whose implementation began in December 2015. The basis for defining priorities of the contest were the recommendations arising from the Operational conclusions from the Seminar on social inclusion of Roma men and women in the Republic of Serbia held in June 2015 .

The Ministry of Youth and Sports and the OSCE Mission in Serbia, with the professional support of the Belgrade Centre for Human Rights in 2012 started the implementation of certified educational course for local coordinators of the youth office (YO) on the topic - Working with vulnerable young people and the principles of non-discrimination to provide support for the realization of one of the standards of the activities of YO - inclusive youth policy. The course was in the period from 2012 to 2015 attended by over 150 youth office coordinators of YO, their associates and representatives of youth associations and young people throughout Serbia. The Guide for working with vulnerable groups of the youth and the principles of non-discrimination was published in 2015.

Council of Europe Office in Belgrade in partnership with the Ministry of Youth and Sports and the Office of the Commissioner for Protection of Equality has been implementing the project "Live Library" in the Republic of Serbia since 2012. Live Library works exactly like a real library, where readers come and borrow "books" for a limited time. There is a single difference - books in the Live Library are people representing the groups frequently confronted with prejudices and stereotypes and who are often victims of discrimination, prejudice and social exclusion (people from disadvantaged minority groups, the Roma, people living with HIV, people with disabilities and others). Books and readers have the opportunity to make a real dialogue.

In accordance with the National Strategy for Youth (2008) and the action plan for its implementation from 2009 to 2014, the Ministry of Youth and Sports from 2011 to 2014 financially supported (over 11 million dinars) 18 projects implemented by the associations whose users are Roma and other ethnic minorities, aimed at their informal education, volunteering, strengthening the spirit of entrepreneurship, employment and spending quality free time.
